

HELLO FUTURE GOLDEN BEAR!

College. It's your first big choice. Where to live? What career you want to pursue? Schedules. Roommates. Car on campus? Right down to which meal plan works for you.

It's a lot to process and completely normal to have some jitters. But when you walk on your new campus ... it should feel right. It should feel like your next home.

That's why we invite you to visit KU. Explore. Talk to students, staff, faculty ... the random passerby.

See if we fit. In the meantime, we'll let our students tell you why it's good to be golden!

An entire campus that believes in you:

"I feel so welcome here. The faculty are seriously willing to help you with anything."

"My professors are like, 'I see your potential! I know you and what you can achieve!'"

"My parents didn't go to college, so I wasn't really motivated to pursue a degree at first. Now I'm on track to earn my Ph.D."

"Where else can you actually get published with your professors? Students are doing that here."

"The professors know my name. I'm not lost in an auditorium full of people like I hear from my friends at bigger schools. When I need help, they're right there. Their doors are open."

College with a View:

"I love that I'm away from home, but close enough ... it's just the right amount of away."

"It's much bigger than high school, but small enough that you feel like a community."

"It's so pretty here ... and everyone's so helpful."

"Coming here from a big city was amazing. It's really different from what I knew – that's for sure. But it's helping me diversify – to see life through a whole new lens."

Here, You Roar!

"There are something like 40 league and rec sports, and another 200 or so clubs – there's something going on all the time! I've gone to galas, club fairs, Greek life events. There are trips to the city, shows, speakers ... and so much is free or super cheap."

"Coming here I feel like I was given a blank slate. I was pretty much one person all through school. Now I can be whoever I want and everyone is really accepting. You feel like you can be even more than you were before."

Go to www.kutztown.edu/roar to schedule a visit or apply. We've made it really easy and will even waive your application fee. (Just use the code "Golden.")

We look forward to welcoming you as our next Golden Bear!
